FREEDMAN THROWS ANOTHER BASEBALL BOMB.

Names Terms of Peace and Threatens to Shut Up the Polo Grounds-What Will Spalding Clubs Do? - New Yorks After nnings - The Parader's Retirement.

When the National League magnates get together on or about March 24, they may have their plans for a temporary truce quite effectively shattered. As THE SUN has already published, it is the intention of the four clubs loyal to A. G. Spalding to enter the coming meeting with their leader still a candidate for President. It is not a breach of faith to say that John I. Rogers is the man who has laid the wires for future arrangements and who will advocate, in the shape of a compromise, when the candidacy of Spald-ing is blocked, 4 to 4, a schedule and Managing Committee consisting of N. E. Young, James A. Hart and John T. Brush. To this proposition the Brooklyn and Philadelphia clubs of the Spelding faction have assented. So has the Boston Club of the Freedman com-

Horace Fogel, acting manager of the New Yorks, has sent a red hot telegram to Ban Johnson telling the latter that if the Cleveland club holds Pitcher Taylor of the New Yorks the local club will proceed to induer three or four of the American League's stas players to jump their contracts. Fogel sayr that one of the American League's stae pitchers has been "almost begging to sign with New York," and that there are others. Pitcher Mathewson of the New Yorks has been at Ithaca for a couple of days, contering with Hugh Jennings, who is coaching Cornell. Jennings played with the Philadelphia National League team last year, but according to the terms of his contract he was not reserved. Mathewson is reported to have made Jennings an offer in behalf of the New York club. Jennings says that he has not made up his mind where he will play and that he cannot leave Cornell before June 10. He is easily the best first-baseman in the country and a capable team manager.

Dwight Schoolooy Still Leads in Junior Rifle Contest at Sportsmen's Show.

The contests now in progress at the Sportsmen's Show and at the Zettler range are getting very close and interesting. Yesterday 150 boys from Dwight School went to the Garden to cheer C. M. Daniels, who is making a strong bid for the Junior Branch rifle contest. Daniels has made 29 out of a possible 30, but when his schoolmates were ground he could not do at all well, and so he vited until they had gone, when he made another 29. Erskini R. Hewitt won the flycast yesterday. This was a contest with a rear obstacle, and the casters had to keep their lines on the water in front of them.
The lines looked like sea serpents as they

So has the Boston Club of the Freedman nor bination, for A H. Soden wants peace at any price. This plan, it will be remembered, was suggested some time ago by John B. Day, but was not considered feasible just than. What motive prompted Day to make than. What motive prompted Day to make the suggestion will be made known soon, all in sequence.

With apparently smooth sailing, therefore, and the various magnates chucking over the prospective clicking of the turnstiles comes a blast from Freedman which is unexpected, to say the least, especially in view of the statement of certain persons that Freedman, under the Spalding free had become a changed individual.

Mars Cassidy will, as usual, do the starting at the coming meetings at Bennings and Aqueduct, while C. J. Fitzgeraid will appear at Memphis before coming direct to Morris Park to handle the barrier. Cassidy, it is understood, will use the same barrier that Fitzgeraid has used in recent years and in that way expects to do more satisfactory work. As the Jockey Club has made the no recall system a permanent institution, it is believed that the jockeys will be more easily handled and the starters will have less trouble in consequence. The jeystem was regarded as an experiment last season, and there was considerable adverse criticism, especially by bettors. But upon investigating matters, the Jockey Club officials discovered that a majority of owners, trainers and jockeys were in favor of making the system permanent. Starter Cassidy at Aqueduct last fall was compelled to use a barrier that was rather a handicap than a help to the horses. Because of its faults, Cassidy came in for much unjust criticism. At Washington his work will be watched with interest.

CHAMPIONSHIP POOL. Clearwater Wins From Long-Two Mig

Runs Made. The first game last night in the cham-plonship pool tournament at the Montauk Academy in Brooklyn had W. H. Clearwater and Irving Long as the contenders in the ball-pocketing strife. It was an entertain-ing game from the outset, with good runs by each man in turn. Clearwater, however, was in the better form. An easy and thoroughly artistic player, he sized up situa-tions quickly and performed with very lit-tle waste of time and with a very long bridge. He pocketed 30 balls in two consecutive frames, the fourth and fifth, and took a big frames, the fourth and fifth, and took a big lead, the score then being 55 to 20. In this time he made a run of 22. Long was off on long drives for the corners, which hindered his efforts to catch up.

In two successive frames Clearwater fell down on the "hoodoo" ball—the eighth—trying for the same side pocket. A pretty shot of his was a two-ball combination, with a slight kiss off a third ball, for the corner. Long took a chance in the ninth frame when he essayed a thin-cut shot in an effort to break the bunch. He shattered the bunch all right, but the cue ball did a jumping stunt up the table into the corner. His execution was not as reliable as Clearwater's, but nevertheless he gained in the eighth and ninth frames.

Clearwater made the second best run of the tournament near the close. He ran 45, which included eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth frames and part of the tenth. He won by a score of 125 to 68. Score by frames: Clearwater—10, 13, 0, 15, 15, 10, 7, 3, 5, 12, 13, 15, 5, 2. Total, 125.

To the Man Who Wants a Spring Suit. Extraordinary Sale of Our $25.00 Suits for $12.50.

> There is no reason in the world, as far as these suits themselves are concerned, why we shouldn't get the regular price, $25.00, for them, and yet we have a reason. We wish to open the spring and summer business with a rush, we wish to give the stranger, if there is one, an inducement to find out what we are doing for men in ready-to-wear clothing.

> As for the suits, they are the newest for spring and summer -the most popular four-button single breasted sack - all hand tailored of the finest unfinished worsteds of dark and medium shades - every garment tailored to fit-not pressed to fit-kinds that will really retain their shape as long as worn - every suit looks like something - the individuality of the made-to-measure—and the real new $25.00 spring suits at $12.50they will hardly touch our counters. It means don't delay.

Practically, it is a new and improved contest, under conditions that for the first time will give a chance to a proper proportion of the starters. Maturin Bailou, Secretary of the U.S. G. A., will shortly send out a circular embodying all the new by-laws. The year book will not be issued until he gets the correct addresses of the club Secretaries. Mr. Ballou's address is 10 Wall Street, not at the Apawamis Club, Rye, as many golfers seem to think. The changes in the constitution, to be acted on at a special meeting, will also be sent out in a circular, but not for some time yet.

stead of Only Sixteen—By-Law Framed to Cover Pairings in Men's Championship—To Do Away With Placing.

All guesswork about the new manner of pairing those who qualify for the amateur championship was settled yesterday by an announcement that the new by-laws that have been adopted by the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association tell in detail how this important matter shall be arranged. The provisions are in a rule to take the place of section 14 of the by-laws. This old section read, "The draw shall take place three days before the competition, and the contestants shall be drawn by lot." There has always been a feeling that this rule did not help the interest in the contest. If faithfully adhered to the heat players were apt.

easy superior in all-around work, but E. L. Eliason of Pennsylvania, the former Yale champion and Capt. P. M. Kempf, who won the A. A. U. competition at the Buffalo Ex-position last summer, gave extraordinary position last summer, gave extraordinary exhibitions in their several events. Eliason did the best work on the rings with Earle of Columbia a close second. It was a toss-up between Pullich of Columbia and Eliason of Pennsylvania on the horizontal bar, but Brunker of Pennsylvania had things pretty much his own way on the German Isidehorse. The tumbling of both teams was poor, Columbia being without the services of Hatold 8. Osborne, her best man, who is under the faculty ban.

final game of the polo tournament between Aiken and Camden to-day by a score of 14 of the goal several times during the course of the game, but Aiken managed to keep it from crossing the line. As usual, Aiken's superior mounts did their share in scoring the victory. The players were: Aiken-G. Norman, R. Brooks, Ed. Smith and Robert Stevens. Camden—A. D. Kennedy, Jr., W. C. Salamond, R. L. Barstow and G. L. Woodman.
